

KNBC is happy to offer its members the opportunity to purchase custom clothing and accessories manufactured by Champion System.

Order frequency

Orders are usually placed twice a year. There are minimum quantities to be met, so we consolidate orders until we have enough to place a manufacturing order.

JERSEYS:

Champion System has introduced new styles of clothing this year, with fewer options but with a greater variety of fabrics and price points.

TECH is the basic product, available in their traditional CS Tech jersey fabric or their Airlite summer jersey fabric. There is even a "Lite" jersey model made in a lightweight fabric for a very competitive price.

PERFORMANCE is the next step up - see the fabric guide and the features comparison below.

APEX is the top of the line, designed primarily for competitive athletes.

Champion System Models:

The Cycling jersey models and price points are determined primarily by the mix of fabrics used to construct the garment:

ACCESSORIES

How to Order

If you would like to order some custom KNBC clothing, simply send an e-mail saying what you'd like to:

clothing@KNBC.ca

A club representative will respond and help you select the items and sizes, and give an estimate of when the order would be filled.

Orders are usually placed in spring, late April, for June delivery, and in the fall, in November, to take advantage of the usual Champion System "sale" at that time of year.

Size charts are available at: champ-sys.ca/custom/cycling/size-chart

Notices will be placed in the weekly KNBC newsletter "Bike Shorts" giving a deadline for your order to be submitted, to be included in the next club clothing order.
